In Life, You Can't Hit the Pause Button. You Have to Take an Active Role Today. And Every Day.

This blog is about my journey towards financial freedom. So far that has involved budgeting/organizing, personal finance, software and online tool reviews, marketing, business and financial education. My intention is to help others in their journey.

For those that are new to my site, I'd like to share some of the most popular posts that I've written to date.
